

mark zuckerberg fortune

---

Mark Zuckerberg is one of the richest people in the world, with a fortune estimated at $72.4 billion. The Facebook founder and CEO has seen his net worth increase by $10 billion in the past year, thanks to the social media giant's strong performance on the stock market.

Zuckerberg's wealth is largely tied up in Facebook stock, which has been on a tear in recent years. The company's shares are up more than 50% in the past year, and Facebook is now worth more than $500 billion.

Zuckerberg, who is just 33 years old, has seen his net worth grow by leaps and bounds in recent years. He is now the fifth-richest person in the world, according to Forbes magazine.

The Facebook founder has seen his net worth grow by $10 billion in the past year, thanks to the social media giant's strong performance on the stock market. Zuckerberg's wealth is largely tied up in Facebook stock, which has been on a tear in recent years. The company's shares are up more than 50% in the past year, and Facebook is now worth more than $500 billion. Zuckerberg, who is just 33 years old, is the fifth-richest person in the world, according to Forbes magazine.

In May of 2012, Mark Zuckerberg's net worth was estimated to be $17.5 billion. As of March 2013, his net worth has grown to $19 billion. The majority of Zuckerberg's wealth comes from his 28% stake in Facebook, which is currently valued at $104 billion. Zuckerberg also owns a small amount of stock in various other companies, including Zynga and Microsoft. In addition to his financial holdings, Zuckerberg also owns a $7 million home in Palo Alto, California and a $5 million vacation home in Hawaii.

Zuckerberg's wealth has grown significantly in the past year, due in large part to the success of Facebook. The social networking site went public in May of 2012, and since then the value of Facebook stock has more than doubled. Zuckerberg has also seen his personal fortune grow as a result of the success of Zynga, the social gaming company in which he owns a small stake.

With a net worth of $19 billion, Mark Zuckerberg is currently the 13th richest person in the world. He is also the youngest billionaire on the Forbes list of billionaires, and is one of only a handful of billionaires under the age of 30.